 compiled a pretty good record, also.
 The U.S. has six per cent of the world's population, seven per cent of its land area, and 40 per cent of its total wealth. Speaking about per capita income, Dr. Marsee pointed out that the U.S. is running ahead of other nations. Citing examples, he said the average Englishman earned about as much in 1957 as the average American did in 1938. At the same time, a Frenchman's average income was about equal to that of an American in 1921; the average Russian's 1957 income was about equal to the American's 1906 income; India goes back to 1844 and China to 1809.

COMPARING America's standard of living with Russia, Dr. Marsee cited studies which indicated that to "match" the Russian level, the U. S. citizens would have to abandon 60 per cent of their steel making capacity; 66 per cent of their petroleum; 95 per cent of the electric motor production; 66 per cent of the hydroelectric plants; 10 per cent of its natural gas; most of the paved highways, a large portion of the railroad tracks, and eight out of nine ocean-going vessels.

 And for every 20 cars on American streets, 19 of them would have to be abandoned if we were to "match" Russia, he said.

HE ALSO pointed out that Americans would have to throw out about 40 million TV sets, most of the telephones, most of the houses, and we would have to move about one third of the population back to the farms.
 All of this was credited by Dr. Marsee to America's free enterprise system which places a premium on individual effort, thereby assuring the most effective use of human resources.

 "I think it is a shame that this ship and its cargo of grain had to be lost. I know little about navigation and can't say if it could have been prevented. I think the curiosity seekers, swimmers and the private airplane pilots have made jackasses out of themselves."

Rev. William Schatz, pastor of the Seaside Community Church, gave the benediction. Greetings on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce were presented by President William Shawger.

HE EMPHASIZED that these statistics include only the known, active addicts listed by the Federal Bureau of Narcotics. It applies only to persons known to be addicted to "hard" narcotics such as heroin, opium, morphine and the hypnotic drugs.
 "This does not include those persons who are addicted to marijuana, which is a particularly serious problem in California. The use of marijuana is usually the first step toward becoming addicted to heroin. Thus these figures by the Federal Bureau of Narcotics show what the minimum problem is," Supervisor Hahn declared.
 The breakdown of figures on California show that addicts may be found in all types of cities and communities.
 For example, 35 of the cities in Los Angeles County had one or more new addicts added to the list in 1960. Most of them had new addicts added in 1959.

THE BREAKDOWN of new addicts in Los Angeles County cities is as follows:

| City            | 1959 | 1960 |
|-----------------|------|------|
| Alhambra        | 2    | 1    |
| Arcadia         | 1    | 1    |
| Azusa           | 4    | 27   |
| Bell            | 4    | 1    |
| Beverly Hills   | 1    | 1    |
| Burbank         | -    | 17   |
| Compton         | 8    | 17   |
| Covina          | -    | 1    |
| El Monte        | 12   | 9    |
| Gardena         | 3    | 6    |

| Long Beach      | 13   | 22   |
| Lynwood         | 4    | 5    |
| Manhattan Beach | -    | 1    |
| Maywood         | 1    | 1    |
| Monrovia        | 1    | -    |
| Montebello      | 4    | 5    |
| Monterey Park   | 1    | 1    |
| Pasadena        | 34   | 35   |
| Pomona          | 7    | 4    |
| Redondo Beach   | 2    | 10   |
| San Fernando    | 2    | 38   |
| San Gabriel     | 7    | 7    |
| Santa Monica    | 3    | 29   |
| South Gate      | 1    | 5    |
| Torrance        | 1    | 3    |
| West Covina     | -    | 4    |
| Whittier        | 2    | 1    |
| Los Angeles     | 292  | 706  |

THIRTEEN of the cities of Los Angeles County have 20 or more active addicts. These are: Los Angeles, 3539; Pasadena, 104; Compton 65; Long Beach, 62; San Fernando, 51; El Monte, 46; Azusa, 44; Santa Monica, 38; San Gabriel, 28; Burbank, 25; Huntington Park, 21; Inglewood, 21; and Pomona 21.
 Hahn declared that California's 7411 active addicts, of which he estimated 5000 are in Los Angeles County, cost the taxpayers millions of dollars in law enforcement costs and the value of property and goods stolen to finance their habits.
HE EXPLAINED that narcotics addiction spreads and increases in much the same manner as do infectious diseases. Most addicts eventually turn to pushing narcotics and thus help create other addicts.
 The purpose of Los Angeles County's anti-narcotics program, which Hahn spearheaded, is to stamp out the narcotics program, by imposing mandatory penalties severe enough to drive the non-addict pushers out of business.
